

The queues close October 1st.

On October 1, 2026, the Frontera queues will be closed permanently.

The Texas Advanced Computing Center put a warning at the top of Frontera’s user guide. The guide was last updated September 3rd, 2026.

Texas Advanced Computing Center

Seven years, and one last edit.

"After seven years and billions of computing cycles, Frontera will be riding off into decommission sunset."

§ INTRODUCTION

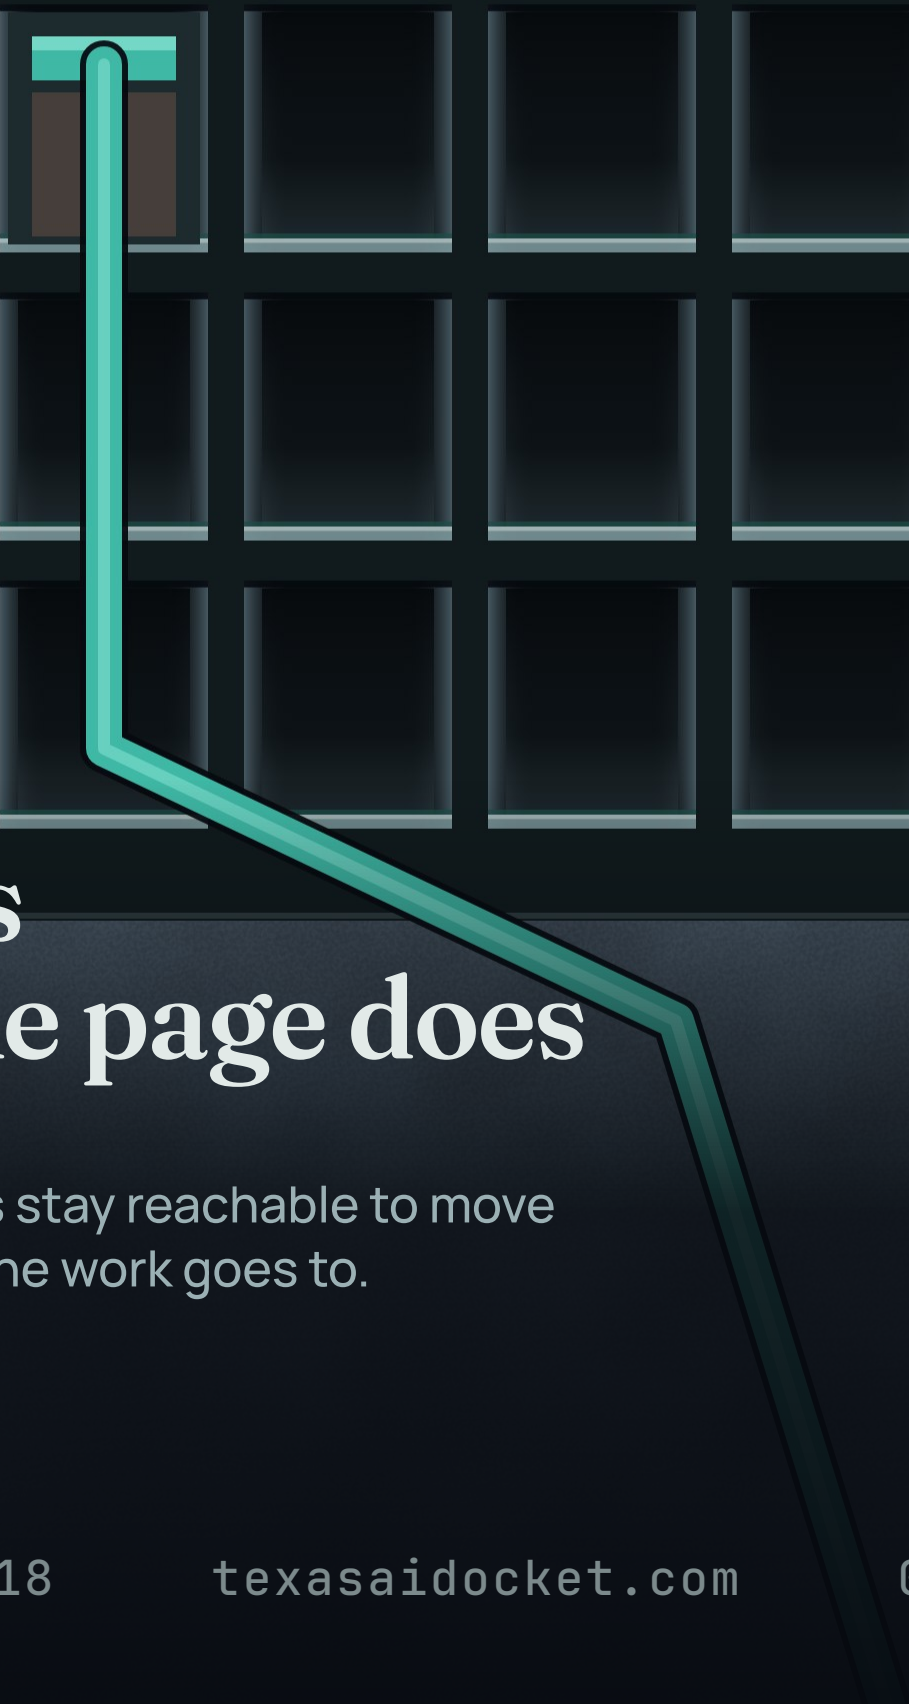

FRONTERA USER GUIDE

Frontera is the largest cluster dedicated to open science in the United States

¶ docs.tacc.utexas.edu/hpc/frontera/

SOURCE docs.tacc.utexas.edu/hpc/frontera/

LAST UPDATE September 3, 2026

The cable goes somewhere the page does not.

The guide says the file systems stay reachable to move data off. It names no machine the work goes to.

The money is real. The manual is not finished.

Leadership Class Computing Facility (LCCF) award,
Award Abstract #2323116
07/01/2024 to 04/30/2028

A construction award with a start date and an end date. What it does not yet have is a finished guide.

The door is shut and the room is running.

HORIZON USER GUIDE

"Horizon is still limited only to internal users. (07/24/2026)"

This user guide is in progress

One side lands. The other ends in connectors nobody has plugged in.

National Science Foundation

Comput~~ation~~ for the Endless Frontier

NSF AWARD RECORD 1818253

Comput~~ing~~ for the Endless Frontier

FRONTERA USER GUIDE

One award, two names.

The funder's own record and the machine's own page give award 1818253 two different titles.

OCTOBER 1ST, 2026

NATIONAL ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE
RESEARCH RESOURCE PILOT (NAIRR)

Three ways in. The record checked one.

The queues stop on October 1st, 2026. The same center leads the construction project behind Horizon, and the Horizon guide is where that machine’s access rule is published.

docs.tacc.utexas.edu/hpc/horizon/